

Redefining Health Care

Creating Value-Based Competition on Results

Michael E. Porter
Elizabeth Olmsted Teisberg

HARVARD BUSINESS SCHOOL PRESS
BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS

Contents

List of Figures x
List of Boxes xii
Preface xiii

Introduction 1

The Failure of Competition 3
Competing on Value 4
Competing on Results 6
The Structure of This Book 9
How Will Redefining Health Care Occur? 13

1. Scoping the Problem 17

2. Identifying the Root Causes 33

Positive-Sum Competition on Value 33
Zero-Sum Competition in Health Care 34
The Root Cause: Competition at the Wrong Level 44
Why Is Health Care Competition at the Wrong Level? 46

3. How Reform Went Wrong 71

The Rise of Group Health Insurance 71
Limiting Payments to Physicians and to Hospitals 74
Managed Care 76
The Medical Arms Race 78

The Clinton Plan	79	MOMn 15 to Value-Based Comp Plans	239
Patients' Rights	81	O\ t running Barriers to Healtr I he Benefits of Moving Early
Consumer-Driven Health Care	83	7 Implications for Suppliers, C
Quality and Pay for Performance	84	Implications for Suppliers	2
A Single-Payer System	88	Implications for Consumers a Implications for Employers
Medical or Health Savings Accounts	90	8 Health Care Policy and Valui Implications for Government ^
Non-Reforms	93	Uroatl Issues in Health Care
Reforming Competition: The Only Answer	95	Mo\ ing to Value-Based Comp Insurance and Access	329
4. Principles of Value-Based Competition	97	Mo\ ins; to Value-Based Comj C o\erage	338
Focus on Value, Not Just Costs	98	Mm inn to Value-Based Comt I kalth Care Delivery	341
Competition Is Based on Results	101	I m pi it ions for Health Care
Competition Is Centered on Medical Conditions over the Full Cycle of Care	105	Conclusion	381
High-Quality Care Should Be Less Costly	107	Appendix A: Making Results Pi The Cleveland Clinic
Value Is Driven by Provider Experience, Scale, and Learning in Medical Conditions	111	Appendix B: The Care Deliver)
Competition Is Regional or National	117	Vo/cs	413
/ Results Information Is Widely Available	122	Hihlioyraphy	445
Innovations That Increase Value Are Strongly Rewarded	140	Index	489 '
The Opportunity of Value-Based Competition	147	\boutlhc \uthors	507
5. Strategic Implications for Health Care Providers	149
The Strategy Vacuum in Health Care Delivery /	150
Defining the Right Goal: Superior Patient Value	155
Moving to Value-Based Competition: Imperatives for Providers	157
How Would Industry Structure in Health Care Delivery Change?	200 "
Enabling the Transformation	202
Overcoming Barriers to Value-Based Competition	218
The Benefits of Moving Early	227
6. Strategic Implications for Health Plans	229
Past and Future Roles of Health Plans	230

f;

Moving to Value-Based Competition: Imperatives for Health
Plans 239

Overcoming Barriers to Health Plan Transformation 275

The Benefits of Moving Early 281

7. Implications for Suppliers, Consumers, and Employers 283

Implications for Suppliers 284

Implications for Consumers as Subscribers and Patients 295

Implications for Employers 304

f-
H-

8. Health Care Policy and Value-Based Competition 323

Implications for Government

Broad Issues in Health Care Policy 327

Moving to Value-Based Competition: Improving Health
Insurance and Access 329

Moving to Value-Based Competition: Setting Standards for Coverage 338

Moving to Value-Based Competition: Improving the Structure of Health Care Delivery 341

Implications for Health Care Policy in Other Nations 374

/
Conclusion 381

Appendix A: Making Results Public 387

The Cleveland Clinic

Appendix B: The Care Delivery Value Chain 397

Notes 413

Bibliography 445

Index 489

About the Authors 507

ove %l

ft-