Trade Policy at the Crossroads
The Recent Experience of Developing Countries

Mehdi Shafaeddin

Foreword by Paul Streeten
Contents

List of Tables and Figures x
Foreword by Paul Streeten xii
Preface xv
Acknowledgements xviii
List of Abbreviations xx

1 Introduction 1
   A summary of events since the conclusion of URAs 1
   The origin of the controversy 4
   The historical background to trade liberalization 5
   Elements of the trade liberalization hypothesis 8
   Gains from trade liberalization 9
   Features of the trade liberalization hypothesis 11
   A few conceptual issues 13
   The theme and the plan of the study 16

2 Growth and Diversification 21
   Introduction 21
   Growth and structural changes in exports and output 23
   Upgrading of the export structure 38
   Debate on de-industrialization 50
   Conclusions 52

3 The Impact of Reform on Investment 54
   Introduction 54
   Investment, supply capabilities and structural change 54
   Investment level 56
   Functional and sectoral allocation of investment 62
   The impact of reform on investment decisions 73
   The case of Brazil 83
   Conclusion 86

4 Market and Government 89
   Introduction 89
   Key problems of developing countries 90
Functions and limitations of the market 91
Market inadequacy 92
Market failure / 96
Main causes of market failure 97
Government failure 106
The counter-argument 108
Concluding remarks: an alternative approach 111

5 Universal Trade Liberalization 117
Introduction 117
The foundation of the theory 118
Unrealistic assumptions 119
Perfect competition 122
Increasing returns to scale and risks 125
Full employment and similarities of countries 132
Alternative views on comparative advantage 133
Conclusion 135

6 Infant Industry Argument and Import Substitution 137
Introduction 137
Origin of the theory 139
The main features of List’s argument 140
Justification 140
Modalities and neglected features 143
Market size 149
Theory and history 150
Import substitution 151
Concluding remarks 153

7 History of Trade and Industrial Policy 155
Introduction 155
Early industrializes: the case of Great Britain 156
Differences between early and late industrializers 164
Late industrializers in the nineteenth century and early twentieth century: the case of the USA 165
Other countries 174
Recent trade liberalization compared with that of the nineteenth century 176
Conclusion 178

8 The World Trading System and Industrialization 180
Introduction 180
Contradictions in design 181
The lack of implementation of the rules 187
The interests of developed countries 196
Concluding remarks: trade negotiation 201

9 Concluding Remarks: An Alternative Approach 204
Reasons for the failure 206
An alternative approach 209

Notes 218
Bibliography 225
Index 246